A WRIT OF MANDATE
The Agricultural College Trustees After Auditor Pratt.

They Ask that He Issue a Warrant for the Late Appropriation or Else Show Why He Should Not.

Auditor Pratt has been served with an alternative writ of mandamus commanding him to issue a warrant for $50,000 in favor of the trustees of the board of trustees of the Agricultural college on June 4, or else give his reasons before the first district court why he has not done so.

The last legislature appropriated $50,000 for the Agricultural college at Logan, but provided that it should be expended under the direction of a board of construction consisting of George W. Thatcher, L. D. Haines and William Goodwin. The board of trustees of the college now object to this, and say the money should be expended under their supervision. They allege that even if the appointment of a board of construction was legal, the governor was the only person authorized to make the appointment, as the members of the board were officers of the territory within the meaning of the organic act.

A demurrer to the writ will probably be entered, and the case continued until Auditor Pratt's return. The plaintiffs are: W. S. McCormick, R. W. Gies, W. B. Storer, J. T. Hammond, A. G. Barber, L. B. Keller and A. R. Heywood.

CAPT. SMITH RESIGNS

His Relations With the Bullion-Beck Severed Yesterday.

RICH ORE FROM DETROIT

The Lemhi County Mines—Important Strikes at Mineral—News of Utah's Wealth Producers.

Captain W. H. Smith, mine superintendent of the Bullion-Beck, terminated his connection with that company yesterday. Mr. Smith was seen by a Herald reporter last night, and stated that his relations with the company were now and always had been of the most cordial nature. His former position will be consolidated with that of the manager, owing to the extremely low price of silver the company wishing to retrench. In the letter informing Captain Smith of the change, the general manager says: "I assure you of the warmest appreciation by the board of directors, of the valuable services you have rendered the company, and to express to you their regret that circumstances have rendered it necessary to discontinue your services. We are sure that you will regard as having striven with marked ability and much success to discharge every duty required of you."

Treasurer Preston, on behalf of the company, yesterday presented the captain with a handsome gold watch and chain, and a pocket set with diamonds and pearls.

The watch was this inscription: "Presented to Captain W. H. Smith with the compliments of the Bullion-Beck-Champion Mining company, May 31, 1892."

Captain Smith expects to make his future residence in Salt Lake, much to the regret of many warm friends in Eureka.

The Detroit District.
William Robertson has received more ore from the Alamo and Prince of Wales in the Detroit district, which averages $42 per ton.

Lemhi County Mines.
We made the statement a few weeks ago that Lemhi county was in the midst of a mining boom, but so quietly has it come upon us and so unpretentious has been its development that many of our readers are unaware of the immense amount of prospecting that has been done, and the great number of claims, mostly placer, that have been taken up. An examination of the books of the auditor and recorder revealed the fact that since September 1 and the present date, about five hundred and ninety claims have been recorded, and when we consider that each claim is from one acre to every acre of which prospects well in gold, we realize that we are in the heart of the richest gold mining region in the United States. All we need is capital and a little time to prove our assertions.—Recorder.

Band Carbonates.
Holly Oakes, in town yesterday brought with him a sample of sand carbonates from the Pioneer mine on Grimes' creek, four miles above Centerville. He had an assay made which showed gold $100 per ton, and silver 70 ounces. A run of this ore was made in Morrell's mill a few years ago that turned out $50 per ton gold. Holly did not know that this year was carbonate. He noticed about a year ago that each claim is from one acre to every acre of which prospects well in gold, we realize that we are in the heart of the richest gold mining region in the United States. All we need is capital and a little time to prove our assertions.—Recorder.

Important Strikes at Mineral.
Important rich strikes are reported in the Black Hawk and Silver Bell mines at Mineral. The camp is looking up as it never has before. Work is plentiful and everybody feels encouraged with the bright outlook. A number of families have recently moved into the camp, and every day new arrivals of miners is noted. Let silver strike the 100 mark and Mineral will boom away out of sight.—Wilder Signal.

New Process in Boise County.
The new process of working gold sulphurets lately introduced in Boise county is said to have proven successful. If true, that alone will in a short time make the old Boise livery as in 1894. There are thousands upon thousands of tons of sulphurets known to be rich in gold that have hitherto been valueless because of no way to extract it. Boise Basin is a base ore as well as free gold and placer camp.

Ore and Bullion.
McCordell & Co. received yesterday: Hammer bullion, $11,500; silver and lead ore, $1,700.

T. H. Jones & Co. received yesterday: Hammer bullion, $14,000; lead and silver ore, $4,700.

The Mayflower represented Park City again yesterday, sending in 130 tons.

The Utah had a shipment of 12 tons of Utah ore yesterday. It was of the usual high grade.

The Diamond group at Eureka, in which Salt Lake are heavily interested, sent in nearly 120 tons yesterday.

The Tintic Miner is authority for the statement that Colonel J. F. Woodman, of this city has purchased all the treasury stock of the Tintic mining company, and heretofore disposed of, and that the stock is selling still at 25 cents. A contract has been let to drive the tunnel 300 feet further.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE HOWELLS CLUB.
The box office counted up $500 and over, and society was out in its most brilliant bib and tucker, on the occasion of the benefit to the Unitarian church fund tendered by the Howells club last evening. Of course society went to be amused, not to criticize, and society succeeded; the spectacles of some of its own belles and beaux, dancing, social and bawling, had all the charm of freshness and novelty, and the pleasure was quite as unbounded as if it were of the best road companies were holding the boards. Of the three little sketches set forth for the entertainment of the audience, the opera of "The Rose of Avernus" deserves first mention; it was a sparkling Offenbachian all over, and was brightly sung and acted by Miss Lincoln, Mr. Pryor and Mr. Goddard, an excellent trio, whose past achievements entitle them to be ranked as something more than amateur. The comedienne were good actors, Goddard being quite funny as low comedian and Miss Lincoln, well known as a soprano, surprised her admirers by showing a very clever capability as an actress. The applause and laughter over the opera was the warmest of the night. "The Old Maid" and "Howells' brightest farces, come next, and in it Miss Lincoln and Mr. Samart achieved the principal honors, both rendering hearty and convincing for good work. Mr. Westervelt acted easily and naturally in both the other farces though afflicted at times with unskillfulness. Mr. Smoother read his lines with clearness and intelligence and made a good impression. Miss Zane appeared in both farces, and was at rather better advantage as Aunt Fanny than as Charlotte. Mr. Ford threw considerable vim into the part of Old Benji, which fits him rather better than the young man in the other farce. Miss Washburn, Mr. Wither and Miss Stewart supported the principals intelligently. That the "Pretty Piece of Business" should be ranked last is the fault, not of the players, but of the selection. It is old style and not particularly bright and might easily have been bettered. Miss Katz, Miss Zane, Miss Stewart and Messrs. Westervelt and Ford interpreted it. Miss Katz was a charming widow and she showed she possesses a very good idea of the light of order and justice. The symphony orchestra, under Mr. Pedersen acquitted itself well and was much appreciated.

Mr. George Downey managed the whole affair, and is to be credited with having furnished a pleasant evening's entertainment and enriched the Unitarian coffers by a respectable sum.

THE CRUCIFIXION.
Cooper's Morning of the Crucifixion is still on exhibition at the old K. P. and K. in the Gladstone building, and it will remain there under the balance of the week.

WONDERLAND.
What with perfect weather, the last performance of "Wonderland" and being so near a very handsome one having been prepared for all ladies and young misses, most liberal attendance should be accorded this favorite musical resort. Tomorrow Mr. Burton Stanley will commence a season of the ever popular "Haford" remarkably strong cast has been selected appropriately befitting each individual.

Miss Graham should make a most charming Buttercup and Al Leach a gallant Sir Joseph C. B. Miss Este will personate the charming Josephine, and Miss Southern the modest and captivating Hebe. The costumes and the orchestra decidedly handsome and calculated to elicit much deserved praise. The charming music, always so pleasing and catchy, will be artistically and correctly rendered.

THE HALF-BREDS.
Another Chapter in the Comedy by Powers.

The Right Honorable Peter Lochrie Hears the Testimony of Smith & Nelson. They Have No Records to Produce.

Yesterday afternoon the Right Honorable Peter Lochrie heard the testimony in the suit of the half-breed Tuscaroras against the full-blooded Democrats.

E. A. Smith was the first witness sworn, and his testimony didn't leave a peg for the ignoble savages to stand upon. He stated that he had been subpoenaed to produce some book or books of the Democratic party; didn't know what books. The records of the proceedings of the Democratic party were sent to Chicago last Saturday in the care of Mr. Dunbar. He had made the records himself in the books; they were of his own creation, and therefore nobody had any right to them but himself.

He had no books of the Democratic party now in his possession, for the very good reason that they were now in Chicago. When asked why he had parted with the books when he had been ordered by the court to produce them at this time, he said in his opinion the learned justice had no jurisdiction in the matter, as the case had been taken to the Third District court. After some other unimportant testimony from Mr. Smith, the case of Mr. Norrell was called. Judge Powers asked:

"Are you a Democrat?"
"Yes," Mr. Norrell curtly replied.

He said that he had no records of the proceedings of the Democratic party; didn't know when they were taken from his office. The books in his possession, however, are his personal property, and nobody had any right to them without his consent. No members of the Democratic committee elected in 1888 had, to his knowledge.

FILED THEIR RESIGNATIONS.
but five of them had tendered their resignation and were out of his office about June 30 or 31, 1891.

Judge Hope then delved in ancient history, going back as far as 1872.

C. W. Hall, Judge Powers, W. C. Hall and Harry Duke then testified as to the proceedings of the Democratic party in 1888, the little boys aiding the memory of the others when they were at fault.

O. W. Powers and C. H. Glenn acted as counsel for the defendants. Mr. H. H. Hurd continually appeared for the defense, never asking a question or raising an objection, and seemed to enjoy the farce hugely.

The learned justice will render his decision today at 2 o'clock.

CONFIRMATIONS.

The ceremonies at the Jewish Temple this morning at 9:30.

At 9:30 this morning the confirmation of Ida Cohen, Stella Engelman and Isadore Watters will take place at the Jewish temple. The programme has already been published in these columns. The regulations for confirmation in the Jewish church are, besides Jewish birth, two: that of age, which is thirteen years, and that of study, which, in addition to membership in the highest class of the Sabbath school, and its attendant lessons, demands a special preparation of a year's course. The tasks of the day consist in a rigid public examination, which is not a rote and dried affair, but a bona fide examination in the tenets of Judaism; the reading of the Ten Commandments in Hebrew, a difficult task, falling to the lot of Master Isadore Watters; a prayer by each of the young ladies, and the confession of faith, which is made for the class by Miss Ida Cohen. The apparel of the children is the very simplest; the girls in white and the boys in plain black; no ornamentation of any kind is permitted. But the plainness of the raiment is more than compensated for in the floral decorations of the synagogue, which have been tastefully arranged by the ladies of the temple.

The musical programme is under the direction of Professor Radcliffe and Miss Lincoln, the lot of the president and vice-president respectively, Mr. Herman Hamberger and Mr. Henry Cohen, falls the office of conducting the choir to the altar. The rabbi will give each confirmation and the synagogue's formal certificate of confirmation and will dismiss them at the end of the ceremonies with the ancient Levitical and priestly blessing, "May God bless thee and guard thee, etc.," in Hebrew.

POLICE COURT PICKUP.
Those Whom Judge Kessler Beamed Mildly Upon Yesterday.

Judge Kessler had a great rush of business yesterday, as there had been no session of the court since Saturday.

F. B. Gates, the man who had disturbed the neighborhood for blocks around, was shown to have an unenviable reputation, as he had more than once abused his family, was fined $15 and given notice if he ever came before the justice again he would be severely dealt with.

GUILTY, BUT DRUNK.
A man by the name of Masters was also accused of disturbing the peace, and disturbing the peace. He pleaded guilty, but in extenuation said he was drunk. He is a hard working man, and a respectable member of society when sober, but when honored gets the best of him he is a holy terror. He is the habit of getting on a spree about once a month on whisky that would, as a witness testified, "make a man fight his own mother." The judge suspended him, but he was told if he ever came there again no mercy would be shown him.

Thomas Morgan, who was found trying to enter the Continental hotel, Saturday night, an account of which appeared in THE HERALD, Sunday, was fined $50. Not having the necessary funds to liquidate, he will adorn the streets for some little time.

MISCELLANEOUS.
Two vagrants, Charles Roe and James Murphy, were given thirty days each in the county jail.

John S. Hubbard was accused of peddling without a license, but was discharged.

Joe McGilroy and Harry McGilroy, charged with stealing a ride on the cars of the Rio Grande Western, were fined $5 each.

Joe Peters came down from Sandy, got drunk and pleaded guilty, but this being his first offence, his honor suspended sentence.

John Doe, who claims to be a sheepherder, and who was registered Saturday as "dead drunk" and discharged then on a promise to do so no more, was again brought before the bar of justice. This time he would pledge his honor as a man—would even swear—that he would never take another drink of whisky in Utah if his honor would let him off. The judge wanted to know where he lived when he was out of jail. Nowhere. He was given four days in which to straighten up.

Messrs. Kelsey and Myers engaged in a friendly combat on Second South street, but neither remembered of having struck or received a blow and neither was hurt in the least. They were fined $5 each.

William Stegar was accused of disturbing the peace. He, his witness and the complainant all insisted on talking at the same time, and as neither could speak good English they made a pretty mess of it. His honor finally came to the conclusion that $5 would be sufficient to pay for his fun.

"REMARKS BY BILL
NYE,"

"The Literary Sensation of the Age."

OVER 500 PAGES, 150 ILLUSTRATIONS. Handsomely Bound in Salt Paper Covers.

LAUGH AND GROW FAT.

A collection of the best writings of this great author, most profusely illustrated, with over 500 pages. It is the funniest book ever published. Bill Nye needs no introduction. The mention of the book is enough.

BILL NYE'S REMARKS:
"We have passed through an earthquake and an Indian outbreak, but I would rather ride an earthquake without saddle or bridle, than to be stung by a successful broncho eruption."

"Age brings caution and a lot of shop-worn experience, purchased at the highest market price. Time brings with it wisdom and wisdom that can be left in a glass of water over night."

"Too much of our hotel food tastes like the second day of January, or the fifth day of July. The whole thing is in a few words, and unless the good hotels are nearer together, we shall have to multiply our culinary facilities."

PRESS NOTICES:
"When Bill Nye turns himself loose for fun the laughing faces of readers should be tightened to prevent accidents."—Inter-Ocean, Chicago.

"Bill Nye always interests and his genial, big-hearted nature shines through every line in his book."—Pittsburg Press.

"We believe that Bill Nye is the brightest humorist of the day. No change in the English language can ever do away with his fun. He is a public benefactor; one of the greatest men of his age. We shudder to think what will become of us when he is gone. May fate stay his day."—Pittsburg Press.
